RURAL OKLAHOMA HAS NO VOICE

National conservative media covers Washington, New York, and Texas. It does not cover the Panhandle, Garfield County, or the fifth-generation ranchers making decisions that feed America.

Oklahoma's 3.9 million residents — 65%+ conservative — are underserved by media that doesn't know their names, their counties, or their concerns about oil prices, fertilizer costs, or Farm Bureau policy.

- BlazeTV — national focus, zero rural Oklahoma depth
- Daily Wire — Dallas-based, entertainment-first
- Newsmax — some state coverage, no county-level beats
- Local TV/Radio — generalist, no conservative editorial identity
- Legacy Newspapers — shrinking, paywall-hostile, editorial drift

"WHEN GARFIELD COUNTY FARMERS
FACE DC MANDATES, THEY HAVE
NOWHERE TO TURN FOR REAL
CONSERVATIVE COVERAGE."

READER-FUNDED. HYPER-LOCAL. UNAPOLOGETICALLY CONSERVATIVE.

The Colony OK is a full-stack journalism platform built for Oklahoma conservatives — combining investigative reporting, podcast network, live TV, member clips, and civic transparency tools in one reader-funded subscription.

WHY NOW

Platform is production-ready — 8 phases complete, 0 blockers

Conservative media is the fastest-growing news category in America

Reader-funded model proven by The Free Press, Substack, The Athletic

Oklahoma is 65% conservative with zero dedicated digital native coverage

AI + agentic tools dramatically reduce content production cost

TWA/PWA enables true app parity without $50K/year App Store overhead

Rural Oklahoma is underserved by every major platform — the moat is geography

"THE COLONY OK IS NOT A MEDIA COMPANY — IT IS OKLAHOMA'S CONSERVATIVE INFRASTRUCTURE."
